DESPICABLE ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT CHARLEROI BUSINESS MEN FALLS FLAT TRIUMPHANT TOUR OF STATE TO END WITH DEMONSTRATION AT MONONGAHELA

North American Casts Reflections Upon Integrity of Local Business Men and Citizens

SIGNERS GLAD TO HELP

Deny That They Were Clubbed into Attesting to Character of Republican Candidate for Governor

Charleroi citizens and business people are indignant over a scurrilous attack made in the Sunday edition by the Philadelphia North American against the signers of the "certificate of character," as the paper calls it, sent out by Charleroi representative business men last week. The North American makes the bold and ridiculous statement that people were clubbed into signing the certificate. This is branded as a lie by those who signed the certificate, as well as those who secured the signatures. The attack thoroughly depicts, as one of the signers says, "the dirty, despicable methods" employed by the opposition to frighten the people and make them vote for Candidate Berry. The certificate was hurriedly gotten up. At 6 o'clock Saturday evening the idea was conceived by R. H. Rush, cashier of the First National Bank. That evening a few persons of their own volition went into the First National Bank and signed it. On Monday morning Mr. Rush and C. O. Frye took the paper out and by noon had without apparent effort secured the large list of signatures. C. O. Frye this morning said:

"I defy anyone to prove that we used any influence whatever to make people sign. Business men were eager to attest to Mr. Tener's integrity and qualifications in this manner. Of the names mentioned as not having signed are C. E. Piper, T. P. Grant and some others. Mr. Piper was out of town, and there was not time to see Mr. Grant. James Frew is another business man who was not seen. There are only two attorneys in Charleroi, D. M. McCloskey and Hugh E. Fergus. Neither was seen, but both would have signed. Contrary to the North American's statement it may be said that a number of business men and citizens were angry because their names did not appear."

TENER IN LEAD BY STRAW VOTE

Test Made at Freight Office Friday and Saturday

A straw vote was taken at the local freight station on Friday and Saturday and the results showed Tener leading over Berry by 15 votes. The vote was taken during the two days of all who came in, the list including traveling men, railroaders, local business men and such. The result was as follows: Tener, 39; Berry, 24; Grim, 0; Larkin, 1; Slayton, 2; total, 66.

CHARLEROI CENTER OF INTEREST

Election Day Eagerly Awaited by People Over State

TENER PROVING FAVORITE

Local interest in the election tomorrow is at a white heat. In a measure all eyes are turned upon Charleroi today as the home of the Republican candidate for Governor, and where Mr. Tener will receive the election returns tomorrow night.

As usual, all three of the State chairman are claiming a victory. The Berry people claim that the Keystone ticket will be elected in the State by 48,000 plurality, while the Democratic chairman claims that Grim will be elected if the disaffected Republicans vote for him instead of Berry. He claims that Grim will be second in the race if Tener wins, and that Berry will be third. State Chairman Walton claims that Tener will carry the State by 157,000. This estimate is made from the usual Republican canvass preliminary to the election.

The Keystone claims come mostly from Berry himself, who evidently believes he cannot be beaten. He bases his strength on the "psychological hour" which he asserts has arrived in Pennsylvania politics, and does not go into figures. His own State chairman makes lump estimates for the most part and does not give specific claims in many of the counties. Chairman Walton conceded but eight counties to Berry, and fourteen to Grim. The Berry counties conceded are Clarion, Cumberland, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lawrence, Mercer, Mifflin and Wyoming.

These are mostly small counties and the conceded pluralities are not large.

Divine Declares For Republicanism

Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell Warns Voters Not to Let Campaign Stories Lead Them to Abandon Old Friends

A special dispatch from Philadelphia to the Pittsburgh Gazette Times this morning states that permission was obtained for the publication of a letter which the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, president of Temple University, wrote a few days ago to a friend who inquired as to his attitude in the gubernatorial campaign.

Dr. Conwell is one of the best known figures in the Baptist Church and he has an international reputation on the lecture platform. The Temple University has a student membership of over 5,000 and is one of the most prosperous educational institutions in the State. The letter in which Dr. Conwell states his purpose to vote for the full Republican ticket, follows:

"Dear Sir—Amid such confusion of counselors it behooves the plain citizen of Pennsylvania to keep a level and conservative mind. There are no 'off years' with the sincere patriot who recognizes the fact that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. This year in Pennsylvania presents but few new problems and sees no acts of tyranny which justify a revolution.

"Keep down with the horse sense of the common people, with your feet on solid earth, is the only advice I can give. Let no campaign stories or election excitement lead you to abandon your old friends or deny the principles the years have proven true.

"As for me, speaking as a plain citizen, I intend to vote the Republican ticket as I began to do when a soldier I cast my first vote for Lincoln. That party has to me stood for the greatest good of the greatest number and has held me to the doctrine that the people must rule and that the voters should know all the facts and that they should claim their rights.

"The administration of President Taft thus far has been a faithful reproduction of the large heartedness and fatherly wisdom of William McKinley. The recent tariff legislation has not filled out all our ideas in some respects, but it has been a safe advance toward that middle ground where the workingman will be carefully protected and where speculators and special interests cannot thrive. The history of the Republican party is a sublime thing, and there is no reasonable indication that any evil thing has crept in which will not be corrected best within the party itself.

"Extremists are evil counselors, no matter how benevolent their intentions. Their success always brings a fatal reaction; and this country is now too prosperous and the people too favorably situated for future progress to make it wise to leave for a single election the great progressive humanitarian statesmanship generally shown by the Republican party.

Don't be Fooled; Don't Scatter; Don't Worry.

"Evils have unavoidably sprung out of such great prosperity as the Republican party has given to this country. Some men have grown too rich; but the late legislation of the nation and of our State has set decidedly toward a reasonably increased taxation of the rich and a decreased taxation of the poor. Therefore, while I believe that the 'common people' will be best protected by the Republican party, and while I believe that the citizen should take special care not to credit campaign falsehoods or insinuations against candidates, and also while I wish my vote to do the most good possible, I shall vote, if I am able to get to the polls, for all the candidates put up by the Republican party.

"Don't be fooled; don't scatter; don't worry. Keep cool and having convictions, live to them and vote for them.

"Don't abandon an old friend easily. You have your own ideals, and if you are a Democrat I respect you and your ideals while they are sincere. Please do me the same kindness, and agreeing to disagree, we will be friends still, until such time as we shall have further tested the Republican legislators who, I believe, will, in a great majority, stand true to the best interests of all the people.

"I agree with Gov. Stuart who, from his official position and experience, as well as from his tried nobility of character, is to be honored and trusted, that 'there is more danger of making things worse, than hope of making them better,' in departing to any serious extent from the political principles and measures which have in 50 years made our nation so great.

"Fraternally yours,

"RUSSELL H. CONWELL."

BEAT AND ROB AGED ITALIAN

Two Negroes Hold up Man Near Twelfth Street

MAKE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

After felling him with blows from their fists two negroes leaped upon Amos Bendetti, an aged Italian at Twelfth street and Lincoln avenue Saturday evening at about 9:30 o'clock, and while one held him another removed what money he had in his pockets. Then they fled. Friends of the victim got on the trail at once, and traced the highwaymen to North Charleroi where they boarded a north bound freight. The police at Donora and Monongahela were notified, but were unable to get any trace of the men. The sum of $10 was taken from the Italian.

IMPORTANT LUMBER TRANSFER IS MADE

The Westmoreland Lumber company of Monessen has purchased the property of the Monessen Lumber company at Monessen, the transaction involving approximately $50,000. The deal embraces eleven lots fronting on Donner avenue near Tenth street, and includes the buildings, office, yard, lumber, wagons and teams. S. K. Long, formerly of Charleroi, is the superintendent of the Westmoreland Lumber company.

Candidate Tener to Speak at Closing Meeting in Neighboring Town Tonight

MANY GOING FROM HERE

Charleroi and Other Towns in the Valley to Send Large Delegation—Mr Tener at Washington this Afternoon

In Monongahela tonight John K. Tener will make his final speech of the campaign. The down river town has prepared a tremendous ovation for him. At the meeting there this evening Congressman A. J. Barfield of Pittsburgh, and District Attorney William A. Blakeley of Allegheny county, prosecutor of the graft cases, will appear with the nominee for Governor. Barfield is always a powerful speaker on Congressional matters and will urge the voters to give Charles Matthews of New Castle such a majority that none will doubt the Republicanism of this great industrial district. Mr. Blakeley has known Mr. Tener for years.

Charleroi will be represented. A final conference of voters will be held at 7 o'clock at the firemen's rooms, and at 7:30 the meeting will be adjourned in order that all may take the 7:35 car to Monongahela. Many women are expected to go, this number to include Mrs. Tener. Other places along the valley will send delegations.

This afternoon Mr. Tener will visit Washington to meet the party leaders and workers and all others who may crowd in at Republican headquarters.

AUTOIST KILLED IN A COLLISION

Rich Owner Meets Terrible Death at Pittsburgh

Jammed into his seat by the steering-wheel of his automobile, Peter Hermes, millionaire, politician and one of the most remarkable characters in the political history of Pittsburgh, was killed Saturday evening on his way to his home in North Craig street. Just as Hermes' automobile swung into Center avenue in front of Christ Methodist Church, it collided with a small wagon and the steering wheel was jammed into Mr. Hermes' abdomen. He was hurried to the Homeopathic Hospital and surrounded by his family he died at 6:15 o'clock. Mr. Hermes was formerly president of the Independent Brewing company of Pittsburgh, and was a frequent visitor in Charleroi, where he was well and favorably known.

Voters, Turn Out

Tomorrow the voters will have an opportunity to pay a tribute to a worthy and esteemed fellow townsman, as well as to demonstrate their appreciation of the honor conferred upon Charleroi by according to the Magic City the Republican nomination for Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Every voter, regardless of politics, as a matter of personal appreciation and civic pride should cash his ballot for John K. Tener for Governor, whose election will not only elevate to the exalted position of chief executive of the State a worthy and capable man, but will also emphasize the standing and importance of Charleroi throughout the country at large.

Not only has the slanderous and scurrilous attacks of the opposition been directed against the personal character and integrity of Congressman John K. Tener, but they have been extended to the whole town of Charleroi. Those citizens and business men who subscribed to the testimonial of Mr. Tener's character and standing in the town have been maligning and ridiculed with slanderous imputations. Charleroi is pictured as a community of undesirables, where drunkenness and disorder is rife, and whose citizens have no character or standing in a civic way. Now is the time to resent these imputations and show to the world that the community stands by the indorsement of its leading citizens. By giving John K. Tener an overwhelming majority at the polls tomorrow, the voters will not only perform a righteous civic duty, but will vindicate the fair name of Charleroi which has been put in an unfavorable light before the public.

Beat the Keystone Ticket

State Chairman Henry F. Walton predicts the election of the Republican ticket by a plurality of not less than 150,000. Undoubtedly the plurality will reach these figures. It should be larger. Governor Edwin S. Stuart and other Republican leaders who are on the stump for John K. Tener repeatedly have stated in their addresses that the outcome of the elections in Pennsylvania this year will be of national importance, because a reduced majority for the Republican ticket will be construed as a blow at the protective tariff system and will fortify low tariff advocates in their agitation for Democratic tariff revision. And they are right. The man who votes for the Keystone ticket will cast a free trade ballot. At the head of that ticket is William H. Berry, an avowed free trader and lower down is a free trade Democratic candidate for Congress and Democratic candidates for the State Senate.

The leaders of the Democratic party confidently predict that the Democrats will control the House in the next Congress by a majority of not less than fifty and they add in the words of Champ Clark, the free-trade, Democratic leader, "First, we will reduce the tariff to a revenue basis." Now everybody knows what sort of tariff reduction that would be. It would establish free trade. How many Democrats does Pennsylvania propose to contribute to the majority that "first will reduce the tariff to a revenue basis?"

Mr. Berry is boasting of the large vote he thinks he will receive. He says nothing about the large vote he expects the Democratic candidates for Congress and the Legislature to receive. If the people should elect Mr. Berry Governor with him they would also elect so many Democratic Congressmen that this State would be a mighty contributor to the free trade majority at Washington. If Mr. Berry should be elected with him a Democratic Legislature would be elected. Then one of the United States Senator from this State would be a Democrat who also would vote for free trade. If the Republican ticket is defeated next Tuesday a sweet price Pennsylvania will pay the piper of the Keystone revel.

There is another reason why the Republican ticket should be elected by an unprecedented majority. No other Commonwealth in this Union has ever known the humiliation that has come to Pennsylvania from the disgrace of the campaign directed against Mr. Tener by the brazen, vociferous and malicious slanderers who, in their efforts to discredit him, have descended to the lowest depths of political venality. John K. Tener is an honest man. As Governor he will serve the people as faithfully as Edwin S. Stuart has served them. It would be a fine thing if his plurality were more than twice that predicted by Chairman Walton. Then the people of Pennsylvania would have proclaimed to the country their loyalty to the policies of the Republican party and emphasized the fact that they demand the square deal all around, in politics as in everything else.

Every ballot cast for John K. Tener will be a ballot for the honor, dignity and material welfare of this State. Beat William H. Berry, free trader and free silver Democrat for Governor. Beat the entire free trade ticket with its office-hungry candidates and money-hungry newspapers—and beat them badly.

TENER HELPED END MINERS STRIKE

In speaking of the settlement of the miners strike of 1908, President Francis Feehan of the United Mine Workers Organization said: "It was done through the influence of John K. Tener who at my solicitation called a meeting of the men interested, that resulted very favorably to the miners of the organization."

The above statement will be found in President Feehan's report to the convention on page 192.

Despicable Attempt to Discredit Charleroi Business Men Falls Flat

We started out to get only a hundred signatures but by Monday noon, when the certificate was sent away, there were 128. Some of the side streets were not visited at all, and several business men on the main streets were out of town. There was not a professional man who saw the paper that refused to sign and some of the doctors approached the committee to be allowed to sign the paper after it had been sent away.

The North American made an attack on the firm of J. W. Berryman and Son, saying this firm signed the certificate only because of its obligations to Mr. Tener, and because that J. D. Berryman's father-in-law, Samuel B. Paxton, holds a clerkship at the State Capitol. J. D. Berryman when seen this morning had the following to say:

"This is one of the dirtiest attempts that has been made to injure Mr. Tener. That certificate was signed by honest men with an honest purpose, and I signed it because I have known Mr. Tener for years, and believe him to be a man of strict integrity. I am a Democrat, but because I know the Republican candidate and have been intimately associated with him as a neighbor and business man I intend, while supporting largely the Democratic ticket, to vote and use my influence for him. I am utterly opposed to using such despicable methods to injure an honest man. The bringing of Mr. Paxton into the discussion is unwarranted. Mr. Paxton is an old soldier, bearing an excellent record and a staunch Republican. He probably owes his position to this fact."

county for Berry by 3,200, while J. Frank McClay, the Republican chairman, places Washington in the Tener column by 2,000. The Keystone estimate only gives Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, a trifle over 900 votes, when heretofore there have never been less than 3,000 straight Democratic votes in the county regardless of previous fusions and combinations.

A significant fact in the claims is that the renegade politicians who are directing the Berry campaign are making no claims. The Philadelphia North American is not making any specific claims outside the usual prelection "hot air" to inspire confidence. Even the Acheson papers, while they give out the impression that they are confident, are not making any definite claims. On the contrary they are talking loudly about "boodle and booze," and illegal votes. That is a pretty sure sign that they are not altogether certain of results.

As a matter of fact the Berry people are relying upon sentiment to carry them through, while the other parties have the organization and votes. Save in but a few spots the Keystoneers are unorganized, and much of the loud Berry talk comes from those who are not voters, or who have little or no weight in getting the voters out. Both the Democratic and Republican parties have complete organizations in every election precinct, and the leaders know, what every politician knows, that the work twenty-four hours previous to election and at the polls is more than half the battle of the whole campaign.

In the light of all precedents in State politics, Congressman Tener should be elected by a substantial plurality tomorrow. Nothing but an unparalleled sweep in the annals of politics can defeat him, and there are no surface indications to believe that the Berry sentiment is of sufficient magnitude to overcome all the organized forces that will be arrayed against it.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dawson and son Kieth drove down from Beallsville Sunday. Mrs. Dawson and son will spend the week in Charleroi.

YOUR KIDNEYS NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise and yet the teeth are not one-tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again?

Do you know that when the blood passes through the kidney these little sieves strain all the impure matter from the blood and pass it out of the body by way of the bladder?

Well, all this is so, as any physician will tell you, and this being the case, doesn't it stand to reason that these little strainers in the kidneys become clogged with impurities?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes diseases in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure when the kidneys are concerned. It's also as easy to clean out clogged kidneys as to clean your teeth.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and brings the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburg, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.99. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50 c. Take your choice of Ceylon, English Breakfast, Assam, Olong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburg, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

In 1906 A. H. Anderson was nominated by the Republicans of Washington County for State Senator. Greene County also presented a candidate in the person of Hon. Daniel S. Walton. Under the conferee system then in vogue, each candidate was entitled to an equal number of conferees. The rules of the State Committee provided that in case of a disagreement, the State Chairman should appoint an umpire, whose vote should decide.

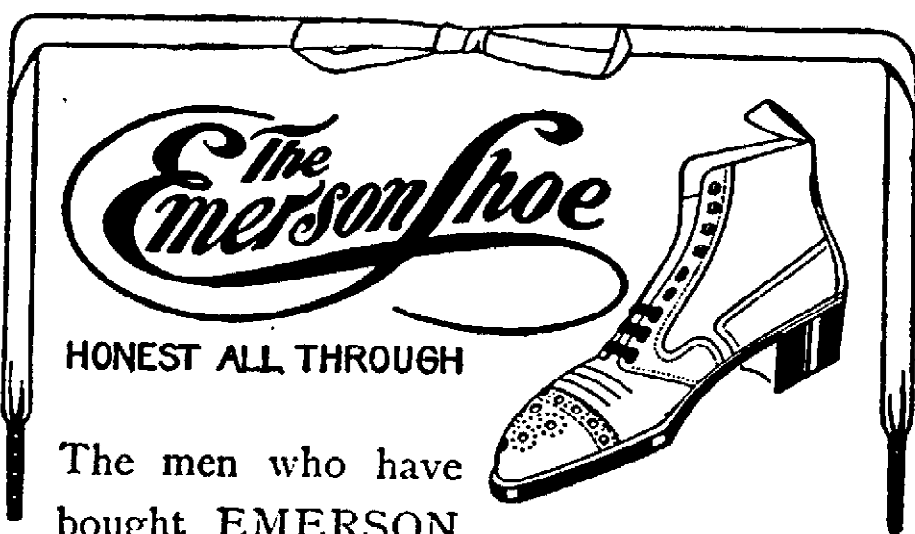

Col. W. R. Andrews, then State Chairman, appointed W. S. Parker, who decided in favor of Mr. Walton. How well Mr. Anderson supported the ticket after being turned down is best told by the following letter from A. M. Templeton, then Chairman for Washington County:—

Col. W. R. Andrews,
1417 Locust Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

You will remember that Mr. Anderson was a candidate for State Senate from the Washington-Greene district, and that I had a talk with you one day late last summer, at Atlantic City, regarding same. You saw fit to arrange matters so that Mr. Anderson would not receive the nomination, and the result was fully as bad as I told you it would be. Mr. Anderson developed great strength at the primary, and his friends were exceedingly indignant over his defeat and the manner of it. Had he stopped right there, as many would under the circumstances, it would have been a very serious matter for the whole Republican ticket in this county. Mr. Anderson, however, was not that kind of a Republican. He placed himself at the disposition of the County Committee and did everything in his power to undo the harm that had been done, and worked faithfully throughout the campaign. The indignation of his friends, however, was so great that, notwithstanding all he could do, our majority was several hundred less than it would have been had he been on the ticket, but he saved us many hundreds that we would have lost had it not been for his faithful work.

Yours very truly,
A. M. TEMPLETON,
Chairman.

VOTERS ARE ON TO BERRY'S GAME

Keystone Candidate Beats Late
P. T. Barnum at Hood-
winking the People

IS REALLY AN ARTFUL DODGER

Now in Court Fighting the Payment of a Debt He Admits He Owes and Pleads Guilty to Making a Failure
of His Private Business.

Hoodwinking the public is an old game. It has been played with more or less success since time was young. The late P. T. Barnum was an artist at the game. He boasted of his skill at painting spots on horses and his ability to change the coat of an elephant from mouse color to a sacred white and the whole world applauded and admired him and his colleagues. But after all Mr. Barnum was an amateur. He was able only to wheedle from a curious people vast sums of money. He was simply a financial fakir. Today W. H. Berry, the self-appointed candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, has Mr. Barnum beaten to a frazzle and in a thousand different ways. Confident in his capacity to fool the people by his simple trick of hoodwinking them Mr. Berry has undertaken to play with their prejudices and is not only willing to take their money but is determined to take their confidence. Mr. Berry plays his game in a way that is absolutely brutal. His plans are to wreck business concerns and destroy individual reputations and in doing so he keeps up a clatter and noise so as to hide his own irregular and outrageous behavior. While Mr. Berry is going up and down the State proclaiming his many virtues, throwing mud of the slimiest kind at both John K. Tener and Webster Grim, the regularly nominated candidates of the two political parties in the State, the courts of Allegheny county are busy with an effort to drag from Mr. Berry a debt of $100,000 which he admits he owes. Mr. Berry refuses to pay it. He says he is unable to do so because he has no money. He says he has no money because he has been so busy with his political campaign that he has neglected his business. He says he has no money because he has been so busy with his political campaign that he has neglected his business. He says he has no money because he has been so busy with his political campaign that he has neglected his business.

Is the Tuberculosis Crusade Losing Ground?

Despite all the efforts being made by advocates of fresh air and exercise, treatments, the number of new cases of tuberculosis is not being noticeably decreased. Write to us and ask to be referred to Clergymen, Priests, men and women who took Eckman's Alternative and are today well and strong without a trace of tuberculosis—pronounced so by physicians. Some of them took the Alternative 10 years ago when doctors said they would not live 10 weeks. Could anything be fairer to yourself and those who love you and would do anything to restore you to health? If you are skeptical—investigate us, our medicine, our advertised statements. Write to those who have sent in affidavits and testimonials telling how Eckman's Alternative cured them. Here is one: "Gentlemen: 'In the winter of 1903 I had an attack of Gripe, followed by Pneumonia and later by Consumption. I was steadily worse. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages; at one time, three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until completely gone. I am perfectly well. Every thing I say here can be verified by my family and friends.' (Signed Affidavit) Annie Floyd Loughran (Eckman's Alternative cured Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. STUART FORTNER FILES OPPOSITION

Republicans Follow Lead of Popular Chief Executive.

GOVERNOR ON THE STUMP

Not Only Calls For Support of State
Ticket, But Tells of Importance of Congressional Campaigns.

Probably the hardest blow the enemies of the Republican party received in this campaign was that given by Governor Edwin S. Stuart when he came out squarely in favor of the election of John K. Tener.

Governor Stuart did not equivocate, nor did he qualify his indorsement of the Republican standard bearer in the slightest degree and since he made his initial declaration at a splendid meeting in Harrisburg he has taken the stump and is calling upon his fellow Republicans of the old Keystone state to vote the full Republican ticket
"from top to bottom." He is man-fully giving his reasons why this should be done in his enthusiastic support of the party's standard bearers.

That the attitude of Governor Stuart has disconcerted the opposition is shown in the editorial comments of the few newspapers for Berry.

Prior to his coming out in favor of Mr. Tener the governor was the subject of fulsome praise; he is now referred to by these same editors as "weak and vacillating." But these silly attacks upon Edwin S. Stuart simply react upon those responsible for them and serve to emphasize the position taken by the most popular chief executive of Pennsylvania.

Governor Stuart did not make his public declaration until he had thoroughly investigated the character and intentions of the candidates and convinced himself that they would all carry out the pledges made to the people in the party platform and in their public utterances.

Will Keep His Word.

Before the Harrisburg meeting Governor Stuart had a long talk with Congressman Tener at the executive mansion in which the whole situation was thoroughly discussed and the governor, who that night was called upon to present the party nominee referred to this fact when he said:
"I had today a very frank and manly talk with the candidate, and he assures me that he understands thoroughly the responsibilities of the great office for which he is a candidate, and if elected to that office his only ambition will be to give an honorable administration in the interest and for the benefit of all the people.

"He assures me that there are no other obligations to ask him or to make him do anything else, and the one thing he desires and the one thing he will do is that on every question coming before him for his approval or action, he will use his judgment and be guided by what he thinks is for the best interest of Pennsylvania and her people.

"I am very glad to say that four years ago in a campaign he was a very loyal friend and supporter of myself in that celebrated campaign, and I take great pleasure in introducing to you the man who is the candidate of the Republican party and the man who, I am satisfied, will do what he promises you he will do if elected to that high and honorable office.

"I say that with all sincerity, and I now take great pleasure in introducing the Hon. John K. Tener, the candidate of the Republican party for governor of Pennsylvania."

Governor Stuart, if he did not have full faith in Mr. Tener would not have uttered those words. He is not that stripe of a man.

In the four years that he has served the state Mr. Stuart has earned the confidence and respect of his fellow citizens by his uprightness and his independence of action, guided by conservatism and extreme caution.

Stuart Speaks to Neighbors.

Governor Stuart spoke to the people at large when he addressed the meeting at the state capital, but there was a stronger appeal a few nights afterward in a speech which he made to his neighbors in South Philadelphia at one of the greatest popular demonstrations ever given in the Quaker City in honor of any candidate for office. With Congressman Tener seated upon the same platform, the governor, speaking to a vast audience, with ten thousand men in the streets unable to gain entrance to the hall, called upon his friends, many of them companions of his boyhood days, to not only vote for Mr. Tener and the entire Republican ticket, but to work loyally for the success of the Republican cause.

Governor Stuart, besides paying a splendid tribute to the nominees on the state ticket and dwelling upon the desirability of continuing a Republican administration in the state government, directed attention to the national phase of the campaign. He told of the importance to Pennsylvania's business and industrial interests of maintaining a Republican majority in congress and of the efforts of the Democrats to capture doubtful districts in this state in their fight to win control of the national house. He therefore urged every Republican to vote the full Republican ticket, that Pennsylvania shall again head the Republican column.

A Statement

Rev. G. G. Kerr, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church desires the Mail to state that Rev. J. H. Palmer's statement regarding the alleged endorsement of John K. Tener as a candidate for Congress by the Charleroi Ministerial Association in 1908 is not altogether correct, and that Rev. Palmer has evidently forgotten the action of the association at that time. Rev. Kerr states that action was taken on the matter, and both candidates, John K. Tener and E. F. Acheson, were accorded a hearing before the association. Neither candidate was endorsed nor turned down by the association.

CHARLEROI BUSINESS MEN FALLS FLAT

North American Casts Reflections Upon Integrity of Local Business Men and Citizens

SIGNERS GLAD TO HELP

Deny That They Were Clubbed into Attesting to Character of Republican Candidate for Governor

Charleroi citizens and business people are indignant over a scurrilous attack made in the Sunday edition by the Philadelphia North American against the signers of the "certificate of character," as the paper calls it, sent out by Charleroi representative business men last week. The North American makes the bold and ridiculous statement that people were clubbed into signing the certificate. This is branded as a lie by those who signed the certificate, as well as those who secured the signatures. The attack thoroughly depicts, as one of the signers says, "the dirty, despicable methods" employed by the opposition to frighten the people and make them vote for Candidate Berry.

The certificate was hurriedly gotten up. At 6 o'clock Saturday evening the idea was conceived by R. H. Rush, cashier of the First National Bank. That evening a few persons of their own volition went into the First National Bank and signed it. On Monday morning Mr. Rush and C. O. Frye took the paper out and by noon had without apparent effort secured the large list of signatures. C. O. Frye this morning said:

"I defy anyone to prove that we used any influence whatever to make people sign. Business men were eager to attest to Mr. Tener's integrity and qualifications in this manner. Of the names mentioned as not having signed are C. E. Piper, T. P. Grant and some others. Mr. Piper was out of town, and there was not time to see Mr. Grant. James Frew is another business man who was not seen. There are only two attorneys in Charleroi, D. M. McCloskey and Hugh E. Fergus. Neither was seen, but both would have signed. Contrary to the North American's statement it may be said that a number of business men and citizens were angry because their names did not appear."

TENER IN LEAD

BY STRAW VOTE

Test Made at Freight Office Friday and Saturday

A straw vote was taken at the local freight station on Friday and Saturday and the results showed Tener leading over Berry by 15 votes. The vote was taken during the two days of all who came in, the list including traveling men, railroaders, local business men and such. The result was as follows: Tener, 39; Berry, 24; Grim, 0; Larkin, 1; Slayton, 2; total, 66.

CHARLES MATTHEWS
Republican candidate for Congress, whom the Keystone party is trying to defeat at the election tomorrow

CHARLEROI CENTER OF INTEREST

Election Day Eagerly Awaited by People Over State

TENER PROVING FAVORITE

Local interest in the election tomorrow is at a white heat. In a measure all eyes are turned upon Charleroi today as the home of the Republican candidate for Governor, and where Mr. Tener will receive the election returns tomorrow night.

As usual, all three of the State chairmen are claiming a victory. The Berry people claim that the Keystone ticket will be elected in the State by 48,000 plurality, while the Democratic chairmen claims that Grim will be elected if the disaffected Republicans vote for him instead of Berry. He claims that Grim will be second in the race if Tener wins, and that Berry will be third. State Chairman Walton claims that Tener will carry the State by 157,000. This estimate is made from the usual Republican canvass preliminary to the election.

The Keystone claims come mostly from Berry himself, who evidently believes he cannot be beaten. He bases his strength on the "psychological hour" which he asserts has arrived in Pennsylvania politics, and does not go into figures. His own State chairman makes lump estimates for the most part and does not give specific claims in many of the counties. Chairman Walton concedes but eight counties to Berry, and fourteen to Grim. The Berry counties conceded are Clarion, Cumberland, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lawrence, Mercer, Mifflin and Wyoming.

These are mostly small counties and the conceded pluralities are not large.

Divine Declares For Republicanism

Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell Warns Voters Not to Let Campaign Stories Lead Them to Abandon Old Friends

A special dispatch from Philadelphia to the Pittsburgh Gazette Times this morning states that permission was obtained for the publication of a letter which the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, president of Temple University, wrote a few days ago to a friend who inquired as to his attitude in the gubernatorial campaign.

Dr. Conwell is one of the best known figures in the Baptist Church and he has an international reputation on the lecture platform. The Temple University has a student membership of over 5,000 and is one of the most prosperous educational institutions in the State. The letter in which Dr. Conwell states his purpose to vote for the full Republican ticket, follows:

"Dear Sir—Amid such confusion of counselors it behooves the plain citizen of Pennsylvania to keep a level and conservative mind. There are no 'off years' with the sincere patriot who recognizes the fact that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. This year in Pennsylvania presents but few new problems and sees no acts of tyranny which justify a revolution.

"Keep down with the horse sense of the common people, with your feet on solid earth, is the only advice I can give. Let no campaign stories or election excitement lead you to abandon your old friends or deny the principles the years have proven true.

"As for me, speaking as a plain citizen, I intend to vote the Republican ticket as I began to do when a soldier I cast my first vote for Lincoln. That party has to me stood for the greatest good of the greatest number and has held me to the doctrine that the people must rule and that the voters should know all the facts and that they should claim their rights.

"The administration of President Taft thus far has been a faithful reproduction of the large heartedness and fatherly wisdom of William McKinley. The recent tariff legislation has not filled out all our ideas in some respects, but it has been a safe advance toward that middle ground where the workingman will be carefully protected and where speculators and special interests cannot thrive. The history of the Republican party is a sublime thing, and there is no reasonable indication that any evil thing has crept in which will not be corrected best within the party itself.

"Extremists are evil counsellors, no matter how benevolent their intentions. Their success always brings a fatal reaction; and this country is now too prosperous and the people too favorably situated for future progress to make it wise to leave for a single election the great progressive humanitarian statesmanship generally shown by the Republican party.

Don't be Fooled; Don't Scatter; Don't Worry.

"Evils have unavoidably sprung out of such great prosperity as the Republican party has given to this country. Some men have grown too rich; but the late legislation of the nation and of our State has set decidedly toward a reasonably increased taxation of the rich and a decreased taxation of the poor. Therefore, while I believe that the 'common people' will be best protected by the Republican party, and while I believe that the citizen should take special care not to credit campaign falsehoods or insinuations against candidates, and also while I wish my vote to do the most good possible, I shall vote, if I am able to get to the polls, for all the candidates put up by the Republican party.

"Don't be fooled; don't scatter; don't worry. Keep cool and having convictions, live to them and vote for them.

"Don't abandon an old friend easily. You have your own ideals, and if you are a Democrat I respect you and your ideals while they are sincere. Please do me the same kindness, and agreeing to disagree, we will be friends still, until such time as we shall have further tested the Republican legislators who, I believe, will, in a great majority, stand true to the best interests of all the people.

"I agree with Gov. Stuart who, from his official position and experience, as well as from his tried nobility of character, is to be honored and trusted, that 'there is more danger of making things worse, than hope of making them better,' in departing to any serious extent from the political principles and measures which have in 50 years made our nation so great.

"Fraternalty yours,

"RUSSELL H. CONWELL."

Dr. Bolton for Tener.

The Rev. Dr. J. Gray Bolton, pastor of Hope Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, has issued a statement declaring his intention of supporting John K. Tener for Governor. Dr. Bolton is one of the leading Presbyterian divines of the city.

BEAT AND ROB AGED ITALIAN

Two Negros Hold up Man Near Twelfth Street

MAKE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

After felling him with blows from their fists two negroes leaped upon Amos Bendetti, an aged Italian at Twelfth street and Lincoln avenue Saturday evening at about 9:30 o'clock, and while one held him another removed what money he had in his pockets. Then they fled. Friends of the victim got on the trail at once, and traced the highwaymen to North Charleroi where they boarded a north bound freight. The police at Donora and Monongahela were notified, but were unable to get any trace of the men. The sum of $10 was taken from the Italian.

IMPORTANT LUMBER TRANSFER IS MADE

Candidate Tener to Speak at Closing Meeting in Neighboring Town Tonight

MANY GOING FROM HERE

Charleroi and Other Towns in the Valley to Send Large Delegation—Mr Tener at Washington this Afternoon

In Monongahela tonight John K. Tener will make his final speech of the campaign. The down river town has prepared a tremendous ovation for him. At the meeting there this evening Congressman A. J. Barfield of Pittsburgh, and District Attorney William A. Blakeley of Allegheny county, prosecutor of the graft cases, will appear with the nominee for Governor. Barfield is always a powerful speaker on Congressional matters and will urge the voters to give Charles Matthews of New Castle such a majority that none will doubt the Republicanism of this great industrial district. Mr. Blakeley has known Mr. Tener for years.

Charleroi will be represented. A final conference of voters will be held at 7 o'clock at the firemen's rooms, and at 7:30 the meeting will be adjourned in order that all may take the 7:35 car to Monongahela. Many women are expecting to go, this number to include Mrs. Tener. Other places along the valley will send delegations.

This afternoon Mr. Tener will visit Washington to meet the party leaders and workers and all others who may crowd in at Republican headquarters.

AUTOIST KILLED IN A COLLISION

Rich Owner Meets Terrible Death at Pittsburgh

Jammed into his seat by the steering-wheel of his automobile, Peter Hermes, millionaire, politician and one of the most remarkable characters in the political history of Pittsburgh, was killed Saturday evening on his way to his home in North Crag street. Just as Hermes' automobile swung into Center avenue in front of Christ Methodist Church, it collided with a small wagon and the steering wheel was jammed into Mr. Hermes' abdomen. He was hurried to the Homeopathic Hospital and surrounded by his family he died at 6:15 o'clock.

Mr. Hermes was formerly president of the Independent Brewing company of Pittsburgh, and was a frequent visitor in Charleroi, where he was well and favorably known.

Voters, Turn Out

Tomorrow the voters will have an opportunity to pay a tribute to a worthy and esteemed fellow townsman, as well as to demonstrate their appreciation of the honor conferred upon Charleroi by according to the Magic City the Republican nomination for Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Every voter, regardless of politics, as a matter of personal appreciation and civic pride should cast his ballot for John K. Tener for Governor, whose election will not only elevate to the exalted position of chief executive of the State a worthy and capable man, but will also emphasize the standing and importance of Charleroi throughout the country at large.

Not only has the slanderous and scurrilous attacks of the opposition been directed against the personal character and integrity of Congressman John K. Tener, but they have been extended to the whole town of Charleroi. Those citizens and business men who subscribed to the testimonial of Mr. Tener's character and standing in the town have been maligned and ridiculed with slanderous imputations.

Charleroi is pictured as a community of undesirables, where drunkenness and disorder is rife, and whose citizens have no character or standing in a civic way. Now is the time to resent these imputations and show to the world that the community stands by the indorsement of its leading citizens. By giving John K. Tener an overwhelming majority at the polls tomorrow, the voters will not only perform a righteous civic duty, but will vindicate the fair name of Charleroi which has been put in an unfavorable light before the public.

Beat the Keystone Ticket

State chairman Henry F. Walton predicts the election of the Republican ticket by a plurality of not less than 150,000. Undoubtedly the plurality will reach these figures. It should be larger. Governor Edwin S. Stuart and other Republican leaders who are on the stump for John K. Tener repeatedly have stated in their addresses that the outcome of the elections in Pennsylvania this year will be of national importance, because a reduced majority for the Republican ticket will be construed as a blow at the protective tariff system and will fortify low tariff advocates in their agitation for Democratic tariff revision. And they are right. The men who votes for the Keystone ticket will cast a free trade ballot.

At the head of that ticket is William H. Berry, an avowed free trader and lower down is a free trade Democratic candidate for Congress and Democratic candidates for the State Senate.

The leaders of the Democratic party confidently predict that the Democrats will control the House in the next Congress by a majority of not less than fifty and they add in the words of Champ Clark, the free-trade, Democratic leader. "First, we will reduce the tariff to a revenue basis."

Now everybody knows what sort of tariff reduction that would be. It would establish free trade. How many Democrats does Pennsylvania propose to contribute to the majority that "first will reduce the tariff to a revenue basis?"

Mr. Berry is boasting of the large vote he thinks he will receive. He says nothing about the large vote he expects the Democratic candidates for Congress and the Legislature to receive. If the people should elect Mr. Berry Governor with him they would also elect so many Democratic Congressmen that this State would be a mighty contributor to the free trade majority at Washington. If Mr. Berry should be elected with him a Democratic Legislature would be elected. Then one of the United States Senator from this State would be a Democrat who also would vote for free trade. If the Republican ticket is defeated next Tuesday a sweet price Pennsylvania will pay the piper of the Keystone revel.

There is another reason why the Republican ticket should be elected by an unprecedented majority. No other Commonwealth in this Union has ever known the humiliation that has come to Pennsylvania from the disgrace of the campaign directed against Mr. Tener by the brazen, vociferous and malicious slanderers who, in their efforts to discredit him, have descended to the lowest depths of political venality. John K. Tener is an honest man. As Governor he will serve the people as faithfully as Edwin S. Stuart has served them. It would be a fine thing if his plurality were more than thrice that predicted by Chairman Walton. Then the people of Pennsylvania would have proclaimed to the country their loyalty to the policies of the Republican party and emphasized the fact that they demand the square deal all around, in politics as in everything else.

Every ballot cast for John K. Tener will be a ballot for the honor, dignity and material welfare of this State. Beat William H. Berry, free trader and free silver Democrat for Governor. Beat the entire free trade ticket with its office-hungry candidates and money-hungry newspapers—and beat them badly.

In speaking of the settlement of the miners strike of 1908, President Francis Feehan of the United Mine Workers Organization said: "It was done through the influence of John K. Tener who at my solicitation called a meeting of the men interested, that resulted very favorably to the miners of the organization."

The above statement will be found in President Feehan's report to the convention on page 192.

pear. We started out to get only a hundred signatures but by Monday noon, when the certificate was sent away, there were 125. Some of the side streets were not visited at all, and several business men on the main streets were out of town. There was not a professional man who saw the paper that refused to sign and some of the doctors approached the committee to be allowed to sign the paper after it had been sent away.

The North American made an attack on the firm of J. W. Berryman and Son, saying this firm signed the certificate only because of its obligations to Mr. Tener, and because that J. D. Berryman's father-in-law, Samuel B. Paxton holds a clerkship at the State Capitol. J. D. Berryman when seen this morning had the following to say:

"This is one of the dirtiest attempts that has been made to injure Mr. Tener. That certificate was signed by honest men with an honest purpose, and I signed it because I have known Mr. Tener for years, and believe him to be a man of strict integrity. I am a Democrat, but because I know the Republican candidate and have been intimately associated with him as a neighbor and business man I intend, while supporting largely the Democratic ticket, to vote and use my influence for him. I am utterly opposed to using such despicable methods to injure an honest man. The bringing of Mr. Paxton into the discussion is unwarranted. Mr. Paxton is an old soldier, bearing an excellent record and a staunch Republican. He probably owes his position to this fact."

county for Berry by 3,200, while J. Frank McClay, the Republican chairman, places Washington in the Tener column by 2,000. The Keystone estimate only gives Grimm, the Democratic candidate for Governor, a trifle over 900 votes, when heretofore there have never been less than 2,000 straight Democratic votes in the county regardless of previous fusions and combinations.

A significant fact in the claims is that the renegade politicians who are directing the Berry campaign are making no claims. The Philadelphia North American is not making any specific claims outside the usual pre-election "hot air" to inspire confidence. Even the Acheson papers, while they give out the impression that they are confident, are not making any definite claims. On the contrary they are talking loudly about "boodle and booze," and illegal votes. That is a pretty sure sign that they are not altogether certain of results.

As a matter of fact the Berry people are relying upon sentiment to carry them through, while the other parties have the organization and votes. Save in but a few spots the Keystoneers are unorganized, and much of the loud Berry talk comes from those who are not voters, or who have little or no weight in getting the voters out. Both the Democratic and Republican parties have complete organizations in every election precinct, and the leaders know, what every politician knows, that the work twenty-four hours previous to election and at the polls is more than half the battle of the whole campaign.

In the light of all precedents in State politics, Congressman Tener should be elected by a substantial plurality tomorrow. Nothing but an unparalleled sweep in the annals of politics can defeat him, and there are no surface indications to believe that the Berry sentiment is of sufficient magnitude to overcome all the organized forces that will be arrayed against it.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dawson and son Kieth drove down from Beallsville Sunday. Mrs. Dawson and son will spend the week in Charleroi.

YOUR KIDNEYS NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough

Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise and yet the teeth are not one tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again?

Do you know that when the blood passes through the kidneys these little sieves strain all the impure matter from the blood and pass it out of the body by way of the bladder?

Well, all this is so, as any physician will tell you, and this being the case, doesn't it stand to reason that these little strainers in the kidneys become clogged with impurities?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes diseases in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure when the kidneys are concerned. It's also as easy to clean out clogged kidneys as to clean your teeth.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and brings the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburgh, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.00. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50 c. Take your choice of Cavon English Breakfast, Assam, Olong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

In 1906 A. H. Anderson was nominated by the Republicans of Washington County for State Senator. Greene County also presented a candidate in the person of Hon. Daniel S. Walton. Under the conferee system then in vogue, each candidate was entitled to an equal number of conferees. The rules of the State Committee provided that in case of a disagreement, the State Chairman should appoint an umpire, whose vote should decide.

Col. W. R. Andrews, then State Chairman, appointed W. S. Parker, who decided in favor of Mr. Walton. How well Mr. Anderson supported the ticket after being turned down is best told by the following letter from A. M. Templeton, then Chairman for Washington County:—

Col. W. R. Andrews.

1417 Locust Street.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

You will remember that Mr. Anderson was a candidate for State Senate from the Washington-Greene district, and that I had a talk with you one day late last summer, at Atlantic City, regarding same. You saw fit to arrange matters so that Mr. Anderson would not receive the nomination, and the result was fully as bad as I told you it would be. Mr. Anderson developed great strength at the primary, and his friends were exceedingly indignant over his defeat and the manner of it. Had he stopped right there, as many would under the circumstances, it would have been a very serious matter for the whole Republican ticket in this county. Mr. Anderson, however, was not that kind of a Republican. He placed himself at the disposition of the County Committee and did everything in his power to undo the harm that had been done, and worked faithfully throughout the campaign. The indignation of his friends, however, was so great that, notwithstanding all he could do, our majority was several hundred less than it would have been had he been on the ticket, but he saved us many hundreds that we would have lost had it not been for his faithful work.

Yours very truly,

A. M. TEMPLETON,

Chairman.

STUART FORTENER FILES OPPOSITION

Republicans Follow Lead of Popular Chief Executive.

GOVERNOR ON THE STUMP

Not Only Calls For Support of State
Ticket, But Tells of Importance of Congressional Campaigns.

Probably the hardest blow the enemies of the Republican party received in this campaign was that given by Governor Edwin S. Stuart when he came out squarely in favor of the election of John K. Tener.

Governor Stuart did not equivocate, nor did he qualify his indorsement of the Republican standard bearer in the slightest degree and since he made his initial declaration at a splendid meeting in Harrisburg he has taken the stump and is calling upon his fellow Republicans of the old Keystone state to vote the full Republican ticket "from top to bottom." He is manfully giving his reasons why this should be done in his enthusiastic support of the party's standard bearers.

That the attitude of Governor Stuart has disconcerted the opposition is shown in the editorial comments of the few newspapers for Berry.

Prior to his coming out in favor of Mr. Tener the governor was the subject of fulsome praise; he is now referred to by these same editors as "weak and vacillating." But these silly attacks upon Edwin S. Stuart simply react upon those responsible for them and serve to emphasize the position taken by the most popular chief executive of Pennsylvania.

Governor Stuart did not make his public declaration until he had thoroughly investigated the character and intentions of the candidates and convinced himself that they would all carry out the pledges made to the people in the party platform and in their public utterances.

Will Keep His Word.

Before the Harrisburg meeting Governor Stuart had a long talk with Congressman Tener at the executive mansion in which the whole situation was thoroughly discussed and the governor, who that night was called upon to present the party nominees referred to this fact when he said:

"I had today a very frank and manly talk with the candidate, and he assures me that he understands thoroughly the responsibilities of the great office for which he is a candidate, and if elected to that office his only ambition will be to give an honorable administration in the interest and for the benefit of all the people.

"He assures me that there are no other obligations to ask him or to make him do anything else, and the one thing he desires and the one thing he will do is that on every question coming before him for his approval or action, he will use his judgment and be guided by what he thinks is for the best interest of Pennsylvania and her people.

"I am very glad to say that four years ago in a campaign he was a very loyal friend and supporter of myself in that celebrated campaign, and I take great pleasure in introducing to you the man who is the candidate of the Republican party and the man who, I am satisfied, will do what he promises you he will do if elected to that high and honorable office.

"I say that with all sincerity, and I now take great pleasure in introducing the Hon. John K. Tener, the candidate of the Republican party for governor of Pennsylvania."

Governor Stuart, if he did not have full faith in Mr. Tener would not have uttered those words. He is not that stripe of a man.

In the four years that he has served the state Mr. Stuart has earned the confidence and respect of his fellow citizens by his uprightness and his independence of action, guided by conservation and extreme caution.

Stuart Speaks to Neighbors.

Governor Stuart spoke to the people at large when he addressed the meeting at the state capital, but there was a stronger appeal a few nights afterward in a speech which he made to his neighbors in South Philadelphia at one of the greatest popular demonstrations ever given in the Quaker City in honor of any candidate for office. With Congressman Tener seated upon the same platform, the governor, speaking to a vast audience, with ten thousand men in the streets unable to gain entrance to the hall, called upon his friends, many of them companions of his boyhood days, to not only vote for Mr. Tener and the entire Republican ticket, but to work loyally for the success of the Republican cause.

Governor Stuart, besides paying a splendid tribute to the nominees on the state ticket and dwelling upon the desirability of continuing a Republican administration in the state government, directed attention to the national phase of the campaign. He told of the importance to Pennsylvania's business and industrial interests of maintaining a Republican majority in congress and of the efforts of the Democrats to capture doubtful districts in this state in their fight to win control of the national house. He therefore urged every Republican to vote the full Republican ticket, that Pennsylvania shall again head the Republican column.

VOTERS ARE ON TO BERRY'S GAME

Keystone Candidate Beats Late
P. T. Barnum at Hood-
winking the People

IS REALLY AN ARTFUL DODGER

Now in Court Fighting the Payment
of a Debt He Admits He Owes and Pleads Guilty to Making a Failure
of His Private Business.

Hoodwinking the public is an old game. It has been played with more or less success since time was young. The late P. T. Barnum was an artist at the game. He boasted of his skill at painting spots on horses and his ability to change the color of an elephant from mouse color to a sacred white and the whole world applauded and admired him and his coming was deception. But after all Mr. Barnum was an amateur. He was able only to wheedle from a curious people vast sums of money. He was simply a financial fakir. Today W. H. Berry, the self-appointed candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, has Mr. Barnum beaten to a frazzle and in a thousand different ways. Confident in his capacity to fool the people by his simple trick of hoodwinking them Mr. Berry has undertaken to play with their prejudices and is not only willing to take their money but is determined to take their confidence. Mr. Berry plays his game in a way that is absolutely brutal. His plans are to wreck business concerns and destroy individual reputations and in doing so he keeps up a clatter and noise so as to hide his own irregular and outrageous behavior. While Mr. Berry is going up and down the State proclaiming his many virtues, throwing mud of the slimiest kind at both John K. Tener and Webster Grim, the regularly nominated candidates of the two political parties in the State, the courts of Allegheny county are busy with an effort to dig from Mr. Berry a debt of $100,000. Mr. Berry admits he owes this money. He refuses to pay, and the courts are now compelling him to do so. Mr. Berry's debt is a debt to the State of Pennsylvania from Colonel J. B. Guffey, a new denouement as a party boss simply because Colonel Guffey refused to order the Democratic convention at Allentown to nominate Berry instead of Grim, yet Mr. Berry is hopeful that through some legal technicality he may be able to escape the payment of the debt because Colonel Guffey, from whom he borrowed the money, has gone into the hands of a receiver since the debt was incurred. It is just probable that such hangers-on as Berry hastened the financial distress of Colonel Guffey but nevertheless Mr. Berry is going about proclaiming individual honesty and protesting the political dishonesty of such men as Colonel Guffey and questioning the business integrity of Mr. Tener and Mr. Grim. Mr. Berry, an adept at the game of hoodwinking, seems confident that he can fool all the people all the time. Mr. Tener has taken his slanderers into court where they must answer. Mr. Berry has himself been taken into court where he is attempting a very feeble answer, yet he believes that his lowdown truckling and his sycophancy will appeal to the people as virtues. In his plea in court Mr. Berry confesses that he has been unable to successfully manage his own business yet in his greed for office he has the effrontery to ask the voters of Pennsylvania to entrust him with the affairs of this great State. Mr. Berry plays upon religion in one section of the State and in another section he attempts a blundering deal with the liquor interests. In one county of the State he is a Democrat and in another section he shouts out that he is the advance agent of the anti-Saloon Party. In fact he is anything and everything to get votes and it is gratifying to realize that the people of the State are on to him with both feet, so to speak, and those who were attracted to him early in the campaign are now resenting his efforts to play with their intelligence. The people of the State fully realize that Mr. Berry insulted their intelligence when he attempted to convince them that he was the only fit man for Governor. When Berry surrounded himself with managers who were in the game for advertising their publications and who were willing to make money by wrecking reputations he exposed his selfish greed and disgusted many good people. Mr. Berry was a part of the cowardly conspiracy of the money-hungry newspapers which first assaulted Webster Grim because he beat Berry to the Democratic nomination for Governor and later assaulted Mr. Tener because he was certain to beat Mr. Berry to the election. Mr. Berry was the chief evangelist of the newspapers which were delighted to destroy reputations at so much per reputation so long as the money went into the newspaper cash box. The people of Pennsylvania will rebuke these slanderers, whose chief is Berry, and John K. Tener will be elected the next Governor of this State by an overwhelming majority.

Pennsylvania has ever had, has become disgusted, like many other honest men, with the Berry hypocrisy and has taken the stump for Mr. Tener. Governor Stuart when he was elected was assailed in the same way and by the same gang that is now assailing Mr. Tener and Governor Stuart is resenting the outrage just as the Republicans of Pennsylvania resented the outrage upon Governor Stuart during his campaign. The closing days of the campaign are certain to be filled with political music and the Republicans of the State will stand for the rest of the campaign as they have stood since Mr. Tener was nominated on the record of the Republican party and the record, public and private, of its candidates. Plenty of work with satisfactory wages is the policy of the Republican party and the voters are certain to approve that policy. The candidates of the Republican party in the pending campaign are the equal of if not better than the candidates ever before nominated by the Republicans or any other party in the State. The "Bellevue Enterprise," owned and edited in Mr. Tener's home community, has this to say of the Republican candidate for Governor:

"The Republican candidate for Governor has met his traducers as any other honest man who is falsely accused would meet them. When he finishes with them there will not be a man outside the sinister alliance which has borne false witness against him who will not say that he has spoken the truth. Mr. Tener on the stump has answered the charges of those who for political purposes are willing to blacken his character. He will answer them again—in the courts. There the conspiracy of his accusers will be fully disclosed. Mr. Tener frankly has submitted the facts and he will receive the vindication his friends demand. Then those who have been deceived will be amazed at the discovery that what they accepted as enlightened reform was in fact stupid hypocrisy. On November 8 an opportunity will come to the people of Pennsylvania to elect as Governor a man who is able, clean and honest, by an indorsement that will violently repel the black hand methods of a political vendetta. Every voter in this State who believes that the decalogue ought to have a place in politics should cast his ballot for John K. Tener."

A Statement

Rev. G. G. Kerr, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church desires the Mail to state that Rev. J. B. Palmer's statement regarding the alleged endorsement of John K. Tener as a candidate for Congress by the Charleroi Ministerial Association in 1908 is not altogether correct, and that Rev. Palmer has evidently forgotten the action of the association at that time. Rev. Kerr states that action was taken on the matter, and both candidates, John K. Tener and E. F. Acheson, were accorded a hearing before the association. Neither candidate was endorsed nor turned down by the association.
